

LEST WE FORGET. . . Next Tuesday, May 30, is Memorial Day. Originally designated to honor the dead of the War Between the States it has become a day on which the nation pays tribute to honor the dead of all the wars in which this nation has participated. The

Commemorate War Dead With Memorial Services

When Memorial Day was first observed in 1868, San Juan Hill, Verdum, Dunerque and Korea still were unfamiliar names to most Americans. They were honoring men who had died in their own land at the hands of their own countrymen in defense of "one nation, indivisible".

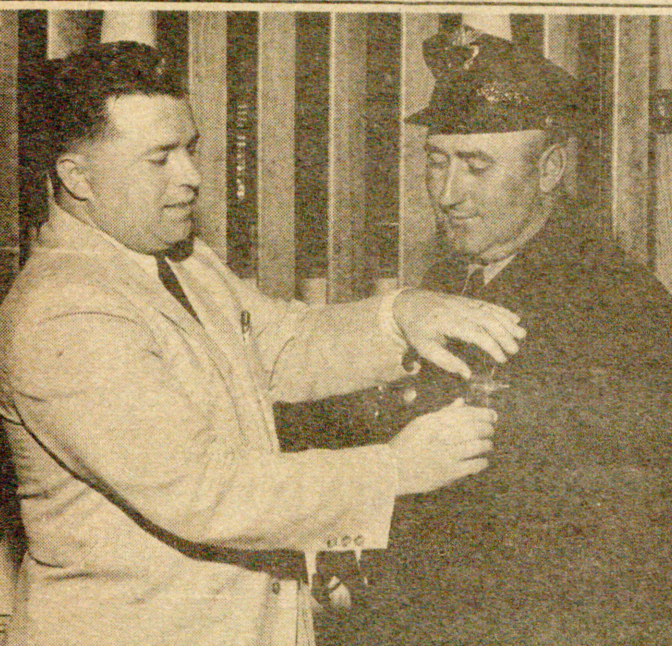

In memory of those who served their country dating back from the Revolutionary to the Korean wars the Mokena VFW Post 725 will hold services at 10 a.m., May 30, in the Post hall on Wolf road to which the public is invited to attend.

The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. Cecil Koop, pastor of St. Mary's church.

Color guard of the VFW Auxiliary will post the colors followed by audience participation in salute to the flag and singing of the National Anthem. Choirs from both local grade schools, St. Mary's and Carpenter street will sing several numbers.

Edward Ciple, post chaplain will read the list of deceased comrades.

Immediately following the service, veterans, and auxiliary members, local Scout troops, grade school band, and other organizations will form a parade and march to the three local cemeteries, St. Mary's, Pioneer and St. John's, where they will hold a short memorial service. A seven man graveside honor guard from the Mokena Site of Nike base of Orlando Park will fire a three gun salute. At St. John's cemetery officers of the post, Edward O'Connor, commander; Arnie Lawson, senior vice commander and Dick Friant, officer of the day will place a wreath at the memorial monument.

NEW POLICE CHIEF for Mokena, Vernon Bormet (in uniform) was named police chief at the meeting of the Mokena village board last week. Pinning the star on Bormet is the village marshal, Trustee Will Tuttle, elected to the board this spring.

Boy Injured In Fall From Car

A 14-year-old boy from Lincoln Estates is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, with head injuries as a result of a fall from the rear of a car last Sunday evening at First and Midland, Mokena.

The victim is Gunner Hendrickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hendrickson. He is reported to have been riding on the outside of a car driven by Wilbur Brookman, 17, Manhattan. There were six persons inside the car, it was said, and three riding on the outside, the Hendrickson boy and two others also from Mokena, Thomas Williams and Roger Schultz.

The Hendrickson boy is said to have fallen off the car truck backway, striking his head. He was taken to the hospital in the Baskerville ambulance.

People Approve Tax Hike For Lincoln Way High

Voters of the Lincoln-Way high school district have approved a hike of 21 cents in the educational fund tax rate. This means that the board has authority to levy up to $1.07 per $100 of equalized assessed valuation for educational purposes if the needs require it.

The board, however, hopes it will not have to use the entire rate for several years to come. The old rate of 86 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation was not sufficient to bring in sufficient revenue to meet the schools needs, it was explained, and the people voted to boost the rate.

A citizens group that rallied to the support of the school after the sought for increase had been voted down previously put in many weeks of study and investigation of the district's needs and then revealed their findings to the public. Committee members addressed various groups and organizations, illustrating their talks with slides.

The citizens committee commemorated success of their efforts with a dinner Monday evening which they gave in the school cafeteria.

In the referendum last Saturday, the proposal to boost the tax rate carried by 69 votes, 1,425 "yes" to 1,356 "no". There were 45 spoiled ballots.

This was one of the heaviest votes polled in a school election in the district, it was stated.

The proposition lost in areas, New Lenox and Manhattan. More than 1,100 ballots were cast at New Lenox where the "no" vote totaled 613 as compared to 503 "yes". The increase in the tax rate within the village of New Lenox is believed to have accounted for the opposition there.

At Manhattan the yes vote was 185 while the no vote was 197.

The other voting districts all were in favor of the referendum. At Lincoln Estates it carried three to one, 108 to 32; Arbury Hills had 50 votes for it and 22 against the rate raise.

At Frankfort the proposal carried 214 to 200 and at Mokena, 365 to 292.

Supt. A. Hunter Chapman was greatly relieved to see the rate raise approved, as were members of the board. They pointed out that the increase is sorely needed to pay rising costs resulting from increasing enrollments.

A spokesman for the board commended the citizens group for its efforts which were believed largely responsible for approval of the tax rate increase.

Recommends Forming Junior College District

After nine months of study and investigation by members of the Southwest Suburban Community (Junior) College Survey Committee have come to the conclusion that such a program is economically and financially feasible and recommends that a Junior (Community) College district be established under the provisions of the Illinois School Code.

The proposed district would be made up of the following high school districts: Argo, No. 217; Blue Island, No. 218; Bremen, No. 228; Carl Sandburg, No. 230; Evergreen Park, No. 231; Lincoln-Way, No. 210; Oak Lawn, No. 229; Reavis, No. 220; Rich, No. 227 and Homewood Flossmoor, No. 233.

In the case of Homewood-Flossmoor, however, representatives of that district on the survey committee are quoted to the effect that the citizens there do not seem to be interested in a junior college.

While the institution would be located within commuting distance and be less costly to the student, Homewood-Flossmoor residents are said to be able to afford the much greater costs of four year institutions, according to the Homewood -

Flossmoor board.

Before any date is set for a referendum on establishment of a district there would be various preliminaries necessary and the public would be given detailed information concerning the program and probable costs.

The proposed district includes some heavily industrialized areas and the total assessed valuation is so high, it is said, that the cost of operating a junior college would be low as far as individual property owners are concerned.

The committee estimates that next year there would be approximately 2,700 students ready for college enrollment in the proposed area (these figures include Homewood-Flossmoor) and that by 1972 the figure would reach the 5,300 mark.

The committee recommends that the college should be built with an original capacity of 3,350 which is the estimated enrollment at the beginning of the school's fourth year.

Among the recommendations of the committee is the development of a strong program of general and technical education, well rounded and with extra-curricular activities giving proper balance.

The committee recommends a campus type institution with enough land to meet current and future needs, including parking and athletic areas.

The committee pointed out that while the proposed college would be open for adult courses such courses would not conflict with those offered in adult education given in the high schools. Some of the courses would earn college credits.

It is proposed to locate the college as centrally as possible, with prime consideration being given to "good avenues of transportation."

New Lenox Firm Buys Store At Wilmington

LaVerne Braun and Joe Hartung, proprietors of Braun Sales, wholesale distributors of New Lenox, have recently purchased a marine supply store in Wilmington located on route 66A on the island and is known as the Island Marine.

The building including the show room has 10,000 square feet of space. They will handle a complete marine line of sales and service plus general merchandise.

This business is another division of the Braun-Hartung corp.

School Bond Issue Up Again June 10

Voters of the Frankfort grade school district, No. 157-C will have another opportunity to pass on the question of a $145,000 bond issue to pay for an addition to the present building. The board of education has set June 10 as the date for the election.

The school will serve as the polling place and voting will take place from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

Those who will not be in the community during voting hours on June 10 may apply anytime now for an absentee ballot. Such applications are to be made with Mrs. Lois Hossbach, board secretary.

The board of education is asking all eligible voters to cast ballots in this election so that whatever the decision may be it reflects the will of the majority of the population.

One does not need to be registered to vote in a school election but one must be a citizen, a resident of Illinois for a year, of the county 90 days and the school district 30 days.

A similar proposal was voted down at the regular school election in April. The board is bringing it up again because it feels the matter is urgent.

A spokesman for the board points out that the present school plant is overcrowded and that the board has already rented space at St. Peter's church to house one grade that will be starting next fall.

The present school was built 37 years ago with three classrooms, a large auditorium and three large playrooms.

Continued community growth brought about a steadily increasing enrollment. As a result the auditorium was converted into two classrooms; the playrooms provided three more classrooms and a kitchen. A principal's office also was constructed.

Now, it was pointed out, there is no more space to utilize. The first three grades are overcrowded. Each room has more students and less space than state school authorities recommend. Toilet facilities are inadequate. A rush of dirty hands would swamp the two sinks available.

The speech correction class is taught in the athletic store-room. Some 80 children bring their lunches to school; the bleachers serve as tables.

Between its use as a storeroom for books and supplies and a business office the principal finds it difficult to find room for himself in his own office, it was pointed out.

The boiler room also serves as a supply depot. The public health nurse who serves the school has no place to keep files or for consultations. She must meet with children, parents and teachers in the halls or kitchen.

The spokesman also pointed out that the school cannot make any use of federal assistance for science programs because there is not space for such.

"There is the principal's office," he concluded, "but really that is quite overcrowded."

AT CONFIRMATION rites last Saturday (May 20) in St. Mary church, Mokena, was a part of a busy day in the life of the parish. The new convent that will serve as the home for nuns who teach the parish school was dedicated Saturday. Bishop Martin D. McNamara, spiritual head of the Joliet diocese, took part in both ceremonies. Some 200 persons, adults and children, were confirmed in the parish last Saturday.

Their Cows Qualify For Butterfat Club

A. A. Wicklein, Will County Farm Adviser, reports that dairymen with 5 or more cows to qualify for the 600-pound Butterfat Cow Club includes Walter Lauffer, Tinley Park, 9; and Irwin Holm, Mokena, 5.

The highest producing cow in the Will County Dairy Herd Improvement Association was owned by Valy and Homerding. Their registered Holstein produced 797 pounds of butterfat. Among cows in the top five was a registered holstein owned by Lauffer which produced 728 lbs. of butterfat.

J. G. Cash, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois, announced today the 43 cows owned by members of the Association qualified for the 1960 Illinois 600-Pound Butterfat Cow Club. The cows were owned by 16 dairymen who are members of the Association.

The Illinois 500-Pound Butterfat Cow club was organized 38 years ago to emphasize important principles involved in securing a high and profitable level of production and to focus attention on the many high-producing cows and herds in the state. In keeping with progress, the program was changed as of Jan. 1, 1959, to the Illinois 600-Pound Butterfat Cow Club.

Girls Charge Puts Youth Behind Bars

A pair of Orland Park youths involved in charges made by a minor Tinley Park girl appeared before Justice of the Peace Roy Benson at Orland Monday.

One of them, Melvin LePetre, 18, of 158th and 113 ave., Orland Park, was sentenced to the Cook county jail for one year after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

His companion, who served as his chauffeur, Robert Persak, 18, 157th and Wolf road, got off with a reduction in the charge to disorderly conduct. He was fined $200 and costs and his driver's license suspended for six months. He too had been charged with contributing to delinquency of a minor but it developed that he did not touch the 14-year old girl what was with LePetre.

According to the report of the case the two youths picked up two girls at the Tinley Teen club and took them for a ride, which included a stop at Mokena where they are alleged to have purchased several bottles of beer and proceeded to drink it. It was not brought out at the hearing at what saloon the beer was purchased.

Later they parked in the country someplace and it was while they were parked that LaPetre is alleged to have made advances to the girl that led to his arrest.

Tony Bettenhausen

The Memorial Day 500-mile classic on the Indianapolis speedway will not be the same this year.

Tony Bettenhausen will not be there, and Tony was a fixture of that race. In the 23 years of his racing career in all types of cars on all kinds of tracks, Tony started in the annual Memorial Day race 14 times.

To appear 14 times in the 500 is a long time. Percentage is against so many appearances in the classic. Automobile racing is a profession where such little things can become so disastrous. There are so many things against a victory, or even survival that Percentage is always a prime favorite.

That Tony escaped so long is remarkable. Loss of a 10-cent bolt caused the car he was testing for a friend to crash into the wall along the straightaway at the Indianapolis oval last week. Tony had been in crashes before his car was smashed even worse but he had survived. This time was the last time and Percentage stamped "PAID" on its account with Tony.

Tony had won the National Racing championship twice; he had won scores of races and many, many handsome trophies. He had won everything but the 500--the Big One for auto racers--and this year it looked as if victory might be his. The other drivers who watched him in trial runs this month agreed that he would be the one to beat, that it really looked like it was to be Tony's year.

Tony's friends and thousands upon thousands of fans would have rejoiced to have seen him win the Big One and if he had one could truly have said, it couldn't happen to a better guy.

Tony was modest, courteous and considerate. There was nothing of the temperamental star about him. When he operated his farm on the outskirts of Tinley Park.

He was a good citizen, a good husband and father, a good friend. He will be missed. Auto racing fans will miss him too. He was a fierce competitor and gave the spectators everything that he and his car had.

The 50 next Tuesday will not be the same without Tony.

Protection Needed

Another life has been claimed at the Wabash rail crossing on Francis road in New Lenox township. This is the fourth fatality at that location in the past 18 months.

One wonders how many persons have to be killed there before any action is taken to give some protection to the motorists who use Francis road.

The Illinois commerce commission has ruled that when only a single track is involved safety gates are not necessary at a crossing. There is no rule, however, against ordering installation of flasher lights and bells to signal the approach of a train.

A person driving west on Francis road cannot see a train approaching from the north until he is practically on the crossing. A line of trees and brush parallel the tracks on the east and conceal the approach of a train, winter or summer.

In the summer when the corn is up in the fields on the west side of the track traveling east cannot see trains approaching from the north or south. That condition lasts, of course until the corn is picked in the fall.

At night a freight train passing over this crossing cannot be seen until an approaching motorist picks it up in his lights and that may be too close for comfort.

Trains using this track have not had to make a stop for many miles so when they cross Francis road they are rolling at high speeds.

It is our understanding that requests for installation of flasher lights and warning signals is put into motion by the county engineer's office, inasmuch as the crossing involved is in an unincorporated area.

Whatever the procedure may be the proper officials -- if they have not already done so -- should take action.

There is no excuse for this continued neglect for public safety.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

In the event you didn't know it, this is National Highway Week.

It may be, for all we know, National Alcohol Week, National Cemetery Lot Week, National Coffin Week and National Accident and Fatality Statistics Week.

There aren't enough weeks in a year by probably a thousand or so, to serve the various causes seeking publicity -- especially the free variety. As a result the calendars have to double up.

We don't know if the current week is actually set aside for the wares of the distillers and casket makers or the purveyors of burial places, or to give emphasis to statistics covering automobile safety. But if this is National Highway Week--and several thousand words from a public relations firm assures us this is so--then these other weeks would fit into the picture very well.

The office wastebasket grows plump on the efforts of press agents seeking space for their pet projects which have special days, or weeks or even months. Such pieces are easy to understand. The P. A. has something concrete to sell and is trying to do it.

But this business about National Highway Week intrigues us. What highway or group of highways hired a public relations firm, and if they did who is paying the bill?

Would it be the cement people, the asphalt people, the blacktop makers, the trucking industry, the steel companies that make reinforcing rods, the crushed rock interests, the bond houses, the monument makers, the automobile manufacturers, or the hot-dog-hamburger-custard-ice-cream-rootbeer people?

It says here that the "Better Highways Information Foundation" of Washington, D. C. is sponsoring National Highway Week but it doesn't explain the make-up of this organization or why it is spending money in the hope that the work of the public relations firm will bear fruit in the form of editorials declaring that highways are a fine thing.

One wouldn't have to strain his conscience or principles to agree that highways are a good thing for the country and its economy and that it is more pleasant to ride on a smooth road than on a rough one.

But the P.A. doesn't stop there. He starts tossing out statistics. From what we can gather a new recipe for monetary success has been found--get a car and start traveling. By sticking to the new highway one can save thousands and thousands of dollars, it is claimed.

Motorists who use the Northwest Expressway in Chicago, for example, can expect to pile up savings of $12,400,000 a year thru less costs on gasoline, maintenance of auto and accidents. And then there is the time saved and time is money -- or so they say. The Schuyler Expressway in Philadelphia and the Los Angeles Expressway are real moneymakers.

The Philadelphia motorists are saving $18-million a year, it is claimed, while the Los Angeles people have saved $260-million in seven years.

The nice thing about this way of making a living is that little capital is required. All one has to do is shop around on these TV commercials and find a car on which he can save $900. By getting four or five of these one can thus save $3,600 or $4,500 which should be enough to get a pretty fair car. One needs room and comfort if he is going to spend the rest of his days out on the highways saving money.

One can also find gasoline and oil on which the savings run into fabulous figures so the cost of operating a car should be nil--if one washes it himself in a creek or lake so there is no water bill to pay.

The only trouble as far as we can see is to find out where one can collect on these savings. There are premium stores where one may redeem stamps but so far we haven't located any places where one may cash in on his highway gains.

Persons living in the path of FAI 80 which is going to be a super-duper east and west highway, are complaining that they will lose considerable money in selling their homes at the prices the state is offering for right-of-way.

We are sure that if they read the right statistics they will find they will make millions but they can't stay home. All they have to do is drive and save.

And if they take the children with them it will solve the school problem too.

GRANNY PRUDENCE

Letters To The Editor

IN THIS CORNER -- GRANNY PRUDENCE

Dear Sir:

I'm as mad as a wet hen. Some weeks ago you printed a letter to Uncle Elmer. It made me boil, but 77 years have taught me patience as I bit my tongue, folded my newspaper, and said nothing.

Our school board is again asking the Frankfort school district for more class rooms. June 10 will be election day. Pennywise will probably write another Uncle Elmer letter, and again we old people will be blamed for voting the bond issue down -- if it falls. That's what makes me so mad my curlers pop off. The old people didn't vote 'No' at the last election, and they won't vote 'No' at this one.

Sure we have money problems, but we have lived longer and come to know what an education means. Wealth, prestige, or position left to your children may soon be taken away. An education -- never. Two thousand years ago Socrates said more in four lines than Pennywise said in as many columns: "Fellow citizens, why do ye turn and scrape every stone to gather wealth, and take so little care of your children, to whom one day you must relinquish it all?"

Older people have time to think; we appreciate values more. Maybe that's why we think our dollar spent for education is our best investment. Only five other states have more wealth per person than Illinois, yet forty states pay more to support their schools. Mississippi spends $11.20 of each $100.00 of personal income for state and local taxes. Illinois spends $7.30. America is the richest country in the world -- yet only to three percent of our wealth goes for education. The cost of extra features on an automobile, which many people do not want, along with added insurance because of such features, would probably equal the cost of operating the public schools.

Our system of free public school education is the foundation upon which our democratic government is built. Every child, rich or poor, black or white, gifted or handicapped, has an equal opportunity in our schools. Few countries of the world can make that statement.

Uncle Elmer's nephew isn't all bad. Remember that line he wrote about the Washington boys maybe taking over our schools if we refuse to vote enough money to run them. He's thinking there. And he doesn't like the idea. Wonder how the 'No' voters would like the 1970 picture of our schools under federal government control. No school elections. No school boards. No voice in running the schools, and no 100 cents of our school tax dollar being used for school needs. Twenty-five to thirty cents of each tax dollar leaks out before it gets back from Washington to the district

4-H Dairy Judging Set For June 2

Charge N.L. Man Drove While Drunk

John Peterson, 35, Route 1, New Lenox, appeared before Joliet Police Magistrate Martin Jackson Saturday morning on the charge of driving while intoxicated.

Peterson's case was continued for 10 days and his bond was set at $2000.

He was arrested by Joliet city police early Saturday morning when his pick-up truck struck the rear of a car driven by Charles Tyler, 24, of 209 Hunter ave., Joliet, at the intersection of McDonough and Ottawa Sts., in Joliet.

City police said Peterson was staggering and incoherent at the accident scene. At the police station, he submitted to a drunk-o-meter test which he failed.

He is also charged with failure to have his car under control, no state license plates and no safety sticker.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

In 1924, Lawrence Smith published a study of long term results of investment in fixed dollar obligations as against investment in equities (common stock).

The conclusions drawn were that equities offered the most desirable investment medium. Smith's investment study became the bible of investment men and is credited with having had considerable importance in the shift of institutional investments from bonds and mortgages to common stocks. This book is also credited with having been very important in creation of Mutual Funds and emphasis on common stock with wide diversification.

Leading analysts are now agreed that we are now in process of going into another cyclical upswing in general business are showing substantial increases in sales. These increases are showing up in many industries.

It is interesting to study what is known as the Capital Market and change in interest rates which effect the market value of bonds. Interest rates are the rental paid on use of money. As the demand increases; interest rates increase. Bonds will decrease in price to a point where the fixed rate on reduced value will bring an interest yield in line with the market appraisal. The reverse is true when interest rates decline.

A recent Capital Market analysis points out that bond prices changed widely and almost as sharply as the stock market. The study uses U.S. Treasury 1 1/2 percent bonds due Dec. 15, 1972, as an example. In 1959, the interest yield on the basis of market value, fluctuated 23 per cent and was 21 per cent higher at the end of the year than at the beginning. It was noted that on the basis of these figures, government bond yields fluctuated more than the Dow Jones Industrial stock average, which had maximum change of only 18 per cent during the year.

Most institutions with large bond holdings, employ their own bond manager or the services of firms specializing in such activities. These men are close students of business trends and money rates which are influenced by business demands and also by government credit policy.

The objective is to lengthen maturities when bond prices are to rise in response to lower interest rates and shortening of maturities when bond prices are to fall. An explanation of this need for such management is the fact that many investors do not expect to await maturity on bonds having due dates thirty or more years away. The holder wants to be able to sell his holdings on a free market.

Shifting credit position of the issuer and changing value of the dollar, make it important to have close management of the bond portfolio.

The better known investment firms have these money market specialists on their staff in order to advise on bond market conditions. This becomes very important to corporate treasurers who must week capital funds for expansion. Issuance of bonds in a favorable market, can result in substantial savings to the firm.

Traditionally, money is a commodity desiring the ability to flow smoothly to the points where it can achieve the best results of its use.

A new service to vegetable growers is being presented by the department of Horticulture, University of Illinois. It is a vegetable production newsletter prepared by specialists at the College of Agriculture. I have sent the names of vegetable growers to the University. One of the first editions of the newsletter requested the grower to return the bottom section of the letter to signify interest in receiving future copies of the letter. If you received this letter and did not send the stub back, it is not too late to do so. If you want the letter but did not receive one at all, call me Kellogg 2-4369. This letter will be of interest to commercial vegetable producers and will be of very little help to the home gardener.

Soybean producers may have heard about the use of cobalt for soybean nutrition. The function of this chemical in soybean production is not clearly understood. Tests are being conducted in this and other counties to determine the effect, if any, of cobalt when applied as a part of the seed inoculant. More will be said about this as the season progresses and after the beans are harvested. After all, the pay-off comes in bushels per acre. Any increase in production is desirable and a decrease is undesirable.

A pint of gasoline mixed with air has the power of nearly 11 pounds of dynamite. This may be enough to put a tractor operator into orbit. Without the protection of a space capsule, this mode of transportation seems to be undesirable. The point being made here, is always make sure that when refueling your tractor, no gasoline spills on the manifold or other hot portions of the tractor. Be sure the tractor is shut off during refueling.

A farm plan that includes uses for labor, buildings, and the operator's management "know-how" the year round, will mean the highest net farm income in the next few years.

By dialing Kellogg 2-4329 any time, day or night, homeowners will receive a 50 second recorded message. These messages will deal with care and beautification of the homegrounds, control of insects, weeds, and diseases, plantings for the homegrounds, this week's best food buy, and timely tips for homemakers. The presentations are scheduled as follows: Monday, homemakers hints; Thursday, best food buy; Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, homeowners' hints. Even if you are not a home owner, you may take advantage of this service. Questions not answered by this daily service can be referred to the county extension office by dialing Kellogg 2-4369, Whiteside says. Subject matter presented through these recorded messages is developed by the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and its staff of specialists.

Hints For Homeowners

FARM ADVISER

It takes care and attention to keep trees and shrubs healthy through the summer.

Water is probably more important than any other single factor in keeping plants growing in hot weather. Large plants need lots of water. Trees or shrubs planted this year will particularly need watering throughout the season. In watering these plants, the soil should be soaked at least a foot deep. This can be done by laying a hose at the base of the plant and letting it run slowly for several hours. Root soakers can be used which place the water directly in the soil, soaking the plant without runoff. Watering once every ten days should give the plants plenty of water.

Root soakers can also be used to advantage on established trees and shrubs. These plants will not need watering as often, but a good soaking is advisable whenever a week of hot weather occurs without rain. If insufficient rain falls to soak the soil, watering may be advisable anyway.

Weeds often interfere with the natural development of trees and shrubs, by competing for moisture and nutrients. Weeds should be pulled out or chopped out with a hoe. Be careful not to dig too deeply into the soil around the plants as this may injure the small feeder roots which are quite near the surface even under large trees. Insects will cause a lot of damage to ornamental plants this year. Red spider mites will be particularly damaging to evergreens. Washing down evergreens with a strong jet of water once a week, and spraying with a miticide, such as aramite, will help prevent this damage.

Bagworms damage deciduous as well as evergreen plants. Lead arsenate or malathion will control them. Aphids are particularly destructive on deciduous plants and are quite annoying due to a sticky material, secrete while they feed, which soon covers cars or anything else parked under trees for any length of time. Aphids can be controlled by spraying with lindane.

Good control of insects demands persistent treatment with the correct material.

"SELECTING COLORS"

Did you ever enter a newly-decorated home, thinking to yourself: "What clashing colors!"

This is because at heart YOU are an artist! You have a natural instinct in selecting colors that harmonize.

But everyone doesn't have that ability, so for those people who need a color chart, they may consult the following:

(Incidentally, use only three colors in each room.)

If an effect of spaciousness is wanted, paint a small room a light color.

Did you know that colors have a Psychological Significance? It's true! Note the effect of the following colors:

Pink, red, orange, yellow, yellow-green and brown, denote warmth, gaiety and cheer.

Violet, green and blue, give the impression of coldness and spaciousness.

FREE ART CLASSES are being formed in various media, with the thought in mind that many women think they have no ability as artists!

Anything is easy to do, once you learn how!

So watch for opening date in next week's column, then bring a friend with you to give you the necessary courage to begin learning how to sketch!

Refreshments will be served afterwards.

SO WHAT DO YOU HAVE TO LOSE?

New Lenox, Tinley State Troopers Receive Awards

(CNS) - State troopers from Tinley Park and New Lenox won honorable mention awards for outstanding police work during 1960.

They are John E. Poorman, Rt. 1, Box 333, Tinley Park, assigned to state police district 4, and Robert L. Wood, 202 Hickory st., New Lenox, of district 5.

Poorman, Wood, and troopers from other state police districts were honored at an award dinner at Springfield.

The first place award was won by Trooper Ernest C. Walcosky, 132 N. Mayfair pl., Chicago Heights.

Walcosky single handedly foiled two armed men in a service station robbery last August.

This was five months after he and another trooper were credited with removing a young couple from an exhaust-fume filled car in sub-zero weather. They save the lives of the couple by administering artificial respiration.

Walcosky won the top award for his "high degree of alertness and bravery during an unusual stress situation" involved in the capture of the two gunmen in the service station hold-up, said Joseph E. Ragen, director of the State department of public safety.

Citizens Group
Works To Preserve
L-W Standards

Members of the Lincoln Way High school Citizens Committee were told, Monday evening, at a victory dinner held in the school cafeteria that Saturday's victory at the polls was just a way to a means in the organization's principal purpose, and that now is the time to do all in their power to keep the school on a high academic level.

Robert Geuther chairman of the group, in pointing-out the reason for its existence said:

"Let's get the referendum of last Saturday in its proper perspective, as I'm sure most of you already have. Isn't it true that it was actually just one incident in the long-range goal of the Citizens' committee? Back in January, the first time our full committee met, we tried to answer the question 'Why are we here tonight?' and we summed it up in two words 'being helpful'. We defined it as being helpful by becoming better informed on school matters. We defined it further as lending a hand to the board of education and the administration in determining what kind of education the community wants for its young people -- and how to get it."

"A month later, we outlined our objectives somewhat more clearly with the help of an outline of 'Activities for Citizens' Committees.' It was at that meeting that we said, 'if your deliberations and sincere study of school problems -- if you evaluation of what the taxpayers and parents of the district want, lead to the conclusion that Lincoln-Way needs more money, and needs it soon why then the answer is plain: It's your responsibility and mine to help the school get more money. We got a hold of it and were successful, but it is only a small part of our job.

"Now to keep faith with the citizens of Lincoln-Way -- to keep faith the 48% who voted No as well as the 52% who voted yes, to keep faith with ourselves and our published purpose, we must dedicate ourselves anew to the long-range job ahead. If you show the same vigor, then we're really on the right track and will be serving Lincoln-Way and the community well."

Supertendent, Hunter Chapman thanked the group in behalf of the staff and himself and urged the organization to continue to aid the administration with the same determination they showed in the referendum project.

Albert Krusemark Jr., president of the board of education, urged the members to increase their membership so that more people may be informed of the progress of the school and its needs. He said too, that the public should be informed that the citizens committee is self supported and not sustained by taxpayers money. "That includes tonight's meal," He concluded.

Louis Loebe, toastmaster of the affair said "The work of the board of education has become so complicated that without the aid of the committee in an advisory capacity it would be impossible to operate efficiently."

Entertainment was furnished by a group composed of Charles Ball, Kay Van Rheeden, Carole Hammond and Dona Mangun under the direction of Robert Taylor, director of the school band and by two vocalists, Thomas Nelson and Larry Hunt under the direction of Tom Olson, director of the school's Coral program.

Names Vernon Bormet As Chief Of Mokena Police

Mokena village Board approved the offer by Clyde Yunker to install water works improvement and approved the appointment of Vernon Bormet as village police chief, at its regular meeting Tuesday May 15. The board also received resignations from two veteran patrolmen, and approved the extension of water mains on Union street between Bryant and Revere road.

Yunker will install an emergency by-pass which will carry the water direct from the pump to the water mains whenever the pressure and storage tank is not in use. The total cost will be $540.

The work will probably get under-way next week and will require about five days, it was said. The water will be turned off through the village for about two hours one evening at a time to be announced in advance in this newspaper.

The board advised Village Engineer Ralph Yunker to have the water main extended on Union between Bryant and Revere. Blain Saxton will be in charge of the project.

Mayor Charles Swanberg instructed Trustee Fred Rauch Jr. and Village Engineer Yunker to grade Third and Carpenter streets to eliminate holes and rough spots and to correct the drainage wherever possible. The mayor suggested they present a plan for correcting as many streets as funds will permit.

A surprised board heard veteran patrolman Joseph Heim resign from the police force. Heim in turning over his badge, said "he did not want to jeopardize his four years clean record as an officer and felt he could not continue to serve the village to the full extent of his duties under present conditions." He did not make himself completely clear on this point. However, Mayor Swanberg asked him to reconsider and rejoin the force.

Swanberg said "The board is aware of your fine service and would appreciate having you stay with us."

Police Marshall, Will Tuttle, said he was stunned at the sudden resignation and that it completely upset his plans as he had considered Heim as the number two man in the revamping of the department. He also commented on Helms fine record and pointed out that the officer was very conscientious in handling the records and paper work of the department.

A few minutes later, when the board had returned to routine business, Walter "Butch" Mueller and another officer turned in his badge leaving the department with only one officer Arthur Millian.

The board appeared to be too shocked to make any comment but got immediately into the business of appointing a new police chief. It decided to appoint Vernon Bormet as Chief of Police at a monthly salary of $525, plus a vacation, insurance plan and other benefits. A portion of this will be paid from the general fund and he will be expected to give a portion of his time to general village maintenance as an assistant to Fred Stienhagen.

Bormet was police chief in Mokena from 1951 through 1953 and has been a life-long resident of the area. He makes his home with his wife and five children at 121 Wolf road. Mrs. Bormet for the past three years has been the school crossing guard at Wolf road and Second Street.

Tuttle said that Bormet will have complete charge of the department and that the assignment of extra-duty officers would be at Bormet's discretion. He also will be in charge of all clerical detail.

Auto Smash Alters Boy's Prom Plans

Leo E. Murphy, 18, of Elwood was injured Friday night when his auto collided with another car on Route 30 near New Lenox, as he and his passengers were enroute to the Lincoln-Way high school prom at Silver Lake Country club, Orland Park.

Young Murphy was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet, where he was held for treatment. He has, since, been released.

Riding in the car with him were William Delaney, 18, of Route 1, Manhattan, and Virginia McCullough, 17, of 727 Ogden Rd., New Lenox. They escaped injury.

Will county deputies said Murphy was eastbound on Route 30. He was going to a flower shop to pick up some flowers, when he overshot the turn. He attempted to turn into a driveway and turned into the path of a car drive by Mrs. Mary S. Harper, 43, of 250 Sangemon Ave., Park Forest.

Mrs. Harper's 5-year old son, William, was asleep on the rear seat of the car. He was thrown to the floor but escaped unhurt. She told deputies she was going to Joliet to pick up her husband, when the accident occurred.

No prom for Murphy.

Mrs. Sheridan remains in fair condition at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, with knife wounds in her back, chest and shoulder. Prior to being locked up, Sheridan was treated at Silver Cross for lacerations to his neck and throat.

Deputies said Sheridan attacked his wife with a short-bladed pocket knife and then cut his own throat. The couple was removed to the hospital in the Baskerville and West End ambulances. The violence followed a family argument, Sheridan was quoted in the report of Deputy Sheriff John Schley.

The Legion prior to the parade, LINCOLN ESTATES

The Auxiliary Police of Will County, Boy Scouts and American Legion of Lincoln Estates will observe memorial day by placing a wreath and holding a short service at the memorial plaque located on the corner of 80th avenue and route 30.

NEW LENOX
Memorial Day Services in New Lenox will be held at a veterans grave in Maplewood cemetery, and will commemorate the veteran dad of all wars, and emphasize the V. F. W. pledge to honor the dead by helping the living.

Officers of the VFW Harry E. Anderson Post, 9545, and the Auxiliary president, have made plans for the service and the parade. They are, Commander Harold Dailey, Senior vice-commander, John Vincent, and junior vice commander, Paul Burkhardt. Auxiliary president is Mrs. Paul Alexander.

Starting at Oakview school at 10 a.m., the parade will follow the same route as previous years, down Cedar road south, to Haven avenue, and then west to the Maplewood cemetery, where the Rev. Maurice Dailey, an uncle of Commander Harold Dailey, and a teacher in the parochial high schools in Chicago, will give the address. Chaplain duties will be performed by Carlton Chapman, and Auxiliary president Mrs. Paul Alexander will place flowers on the grave. Taps will be sounded by a bugler from the R.O.T.C. from Joliet.

Both the Lincoln-Way High School, and the New Lenox grade school bands will participate in the parade and program. Others invited to participate in the parade are, lions club, fire department, Boy Scouts, Cub scouts, girl scouts, brownies, riding club, sportsmen club, minuth school of dance, and the 4-H clubs.

Among the out of towners taking part in the parade will be the U. S. Naval Sea Cadet Corp from Rockdale, and the Nike-Ajax Missile from Orland will be on display in town, after the parade.

ORLAND PARK
Orland Park American Legion and Auxiliary will decorate the graves of veterans at seven cemeteries in the Orland area on Memorial Day.

PALOS PARK
Memorial Day services will be held at 11 A. M. on Tuesday, May 30th this year under the sponsorship of the Palos Historical Society to honor Civil War soldiers from the Palos area. This is part of the nationwide commemoration of the "War Between the States", started by the Bombardment of Fort Sumter on April 12, 1861.

The services, to which the public is cordially invited, will take place in the old cemetery on 131st street, one block east of the Southwest Highway and will follow the old tradition. After an opening prayer by the Rev. Paul Lundell of the Palos Park Presbyterian Church, there will be the presentation of colors, the firing of a salute, public singing of "America the Beautiful", led by Mrs. Neil Anderson, a short address by the Rev. Paul Sanders of the Community Center Foundation, a benediction, and taps played by Ron Scherubel.

A special feature is to be the reading of the prize essay "A Tribute to the Soldiers of the Civil War", selected as best of those submitted by seventh and eighth grade children. The prize of a $25 Government bond will be presented by the judge Dr. Donald F. Bond.
Frank Yunker, resident of Palos and a member of one of its pioneer families will lead a tour of soldiers' graves which will be decorated by Girl Scouts with wreaths and by Boy Scouts with flags.

MARLEY - HOMER
Churches of Homer and Marley will hold a joint memorial program in the Homer church on Sunday, evening, May 28. This commemoration was started many years ago in honor of the soldiers who went from Homer township to the Civil War and were members of the old Hadley Baptist church which was located on Parker near Bruce road.

The committee in charge this year are all descendants of early settlers; Mrs. Adella Sprout, Mrs. Beatrice Gee and Mr. and Mrs. John White. The Rev. Ian Brown of the Marley church will give the main address; special musical numbers will be given by each church. The public is cordially invited to attend.
